

We would like to draw the attention of all potential participants to the fact that despite the standard terms of selection process for the academic mobility program «Semester abroad», due to the unclear epidemiological situation in the world related to a new coronavirus infection COVID-19, the participation of UNN students in this program will be possible only if the situation normalizes and after the mutual confirmation from home and host universities about lifting of the restrictions.

Please note that

- the decision to go abroad for full-time study is entirely your responsibility;*
- you must comply with all the measures prescribed by Rospotrebnadzor after your return;*
- it is also the personal responsibility of a student to be informed about the sanitary and epidemiological requirements of the host country (consulate/embassy for visa application, host university) and to comply with them.*

Therefore, we strongly recommend students who have passed the selection process to withhold any upfront financial investments in the upcoming trip (including visa application fees, accommodation and flights booking, purchase of insurance and foreign currency). Students will be informed about all changes individually.
